A national voice for families of children with a disability

About AAFCD

Who we are

The Australian Association for Families of Children with a Disability (AAFCD) is a national organisation representing families of children with a disability. We are a non-profit, community organisation run by families, for all families who have a child with any type of disability.

What we do

• Advocacy and community education

We advocate to government and other decision-makers for improvements to services and support for families of children with a disability. We speak publicly in the community to increase awareness of the issues facing families of children with a disability.

• Information for families

We work in collaboration with other organisations across Australia to provide information resources for families of children with a disability.

• Celebration

Celebration is a vehicle to create and inspire change. We actively promote celebration of the successes and achievements of children with a disability and their families along with positive stories of support provided by professionals, service providers, business, community and government.

Membership benefits

- Receive our Family Voices magazine, which includes family stories and analysis of policy and advocacy issues with contributions from all states and territories.
- Strengthen the voice of families of children with a disability in the media and political decision-making processes.
